How are Your Critical
IT Projects
REALLY performing ???

27% is the average IT project budget overrun. At least one in six IT projects turns into a 'black swan' with a cost overrun of 200% and a schedule overrun of 70%.
(Source: HBR)

IT projects with budgets over $1M are 50% more likely to fail than those with a budget below $350,000.
(Source: Gartner)

Only 2.5% of companies complete their projects 100% successfully. The rest either fail to meet some of their original targets, or missed the original budget or deadlines.
(Source: Gallup)

17% of IT projects can go so bad that they can threaten the very existence of the company.
(Source: McKinsey)

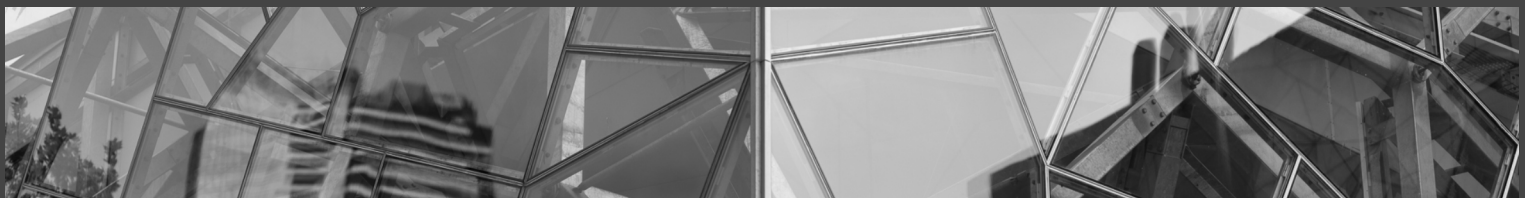

75% of business executives who implement software projects believe their projects will fail.
(Source: Geneca)

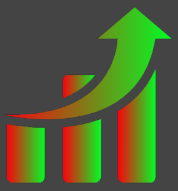

56% of companies are dissatisfied with their current level of Project Management maturity.
